

- Dr. Hava Katz, Director of the Rockefeller Museum and Chief of the Bureau of Israel Archeology
- Dr. Prof. Avigdor Shachan, Ariel University
- Rabbi Eliyahu Avichail, Representative of Amichav (Research Organization for the Lost Ten Tribes)

We really appreciate that they have spoken highly of our efforts as being the first evidential proof made in academic terms and willing to broadly make them known to the world. Particularly, Professor Shachan has given the highest remark that "this book" would become a very important book to be regarded as the turning point in looking back the religious and world history 100-150 years after our generation. Furthermore, Professor Shachan declared that he would plan on obtaining doctoral degree from a university of Eastern Europe.

A special feature article titled "Beginner Christianity" (to deepen understanding of the Buddhism) appeared in the March 2014 issue of Dai Hou Rin (cross-denominational Buddhist monthly). (See the attached)

We are committed to further deepen the content and continually work to gain broader publicity.
